THE EAGLE

The Yearbook Staff

... And Students of Present
St. Stephens Mission

At the moment of our birth, our personality begins. Within it are implanted the seeds of character—seeds whose development is the solemn responsibility of each individual. The story of our high school education is actually the story of each one's effort—at times a painful effort—to grow into a mature person.

What is a person? He is a unique being endowed by his Creator with a body and an immortal soul. It is the duty of the educator to guide this immortal soul to its eternal destiny, training the faculties of both body and spirit to serve as means to this goal. The school can ill afford to neglect any one of these faculties.

It is the hope of the staff of the 1961 Eagle that our readers will gain some insight into the various facets of our moral, intellectual, and physical training.

Dedication

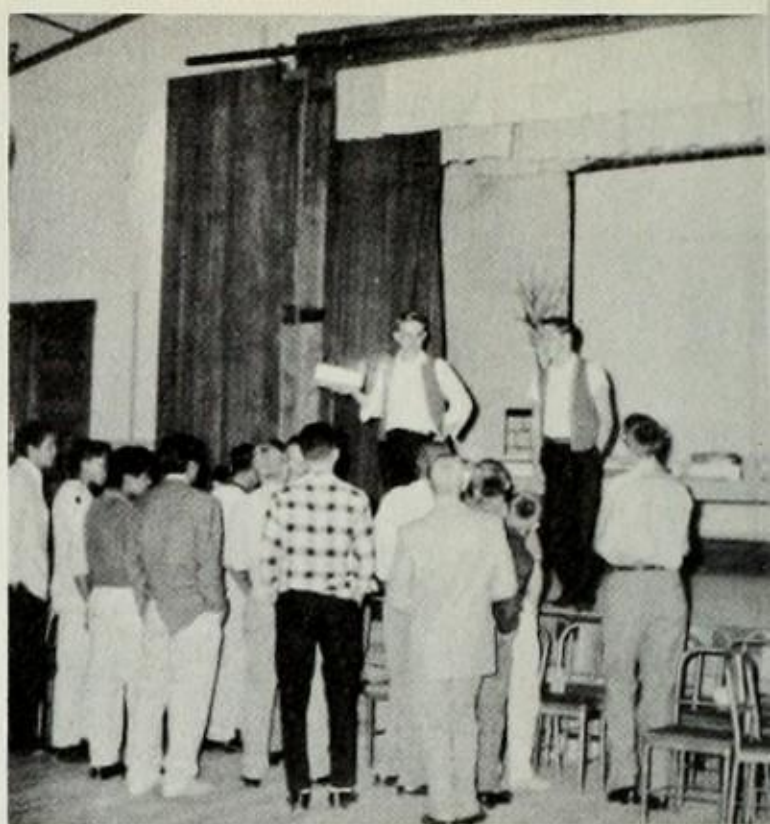

Devoted service to God can be rewarded by God alone. But we as humans may presume to take it upon ourselves to anticipate His words, "Well done thou good and faithful servant."

Sister Mary Bernard, O.S.F., joined the order of St. Francis in 1929. She made her final vows in 1939. Sister had been teaching in Boston for a period of eighteen years when she came to us here at St. Stephen's to succeed Sister Rose Marietta in the High School. The next year Sister Bernard was made superior.

From the time Sister arrived she began working for the betterment of the Mission. Among her accomplishments: publication of the school paper for seven years; co-publisher with Rev. John F. O'Shea, S.J., of the first EAGLE to appear at St. Stephen's; the management of a cast of hundreds in the production of a beautiful Christmas operetta each year; drawing order out of chaos by introducing the Dewey Decimal System of cataloguing for the school library; and in addition to this, six years as superior of the Franciscan community at St. Stephen's.

In 1957, Sister celebrated her Silver Jubilee. Thirty years of devotion to God; and we all join in a prayer of thanks that God has shared Sister Mary Bernard's years with us. AD MULTOS ANNOS!

Against a background of silence, there pulses the life of students. Silence and life! One without the other makes for only half a school, half an education.

We invite you to journey with us through the 1961 EAGLE, while we introduce you to the silence of study and devotion, and to the life of sport and activity, of the students of St. Stephen's Mission.

His Excellency, The Most Reverend Hubert M. Newell, Bishop of Cheyenne

Whose untiring efforts on behalf of the Catholic youth of Wyoming call forth our deepest thanks and heartiest congratulations.

We Will All Remember...

Father O'Neil is no longer here at the mission with us but his voice rings merrily through the halls and lingers with us wherever we go. Although a scholastic he accomplished as much in his capacity as any priest.

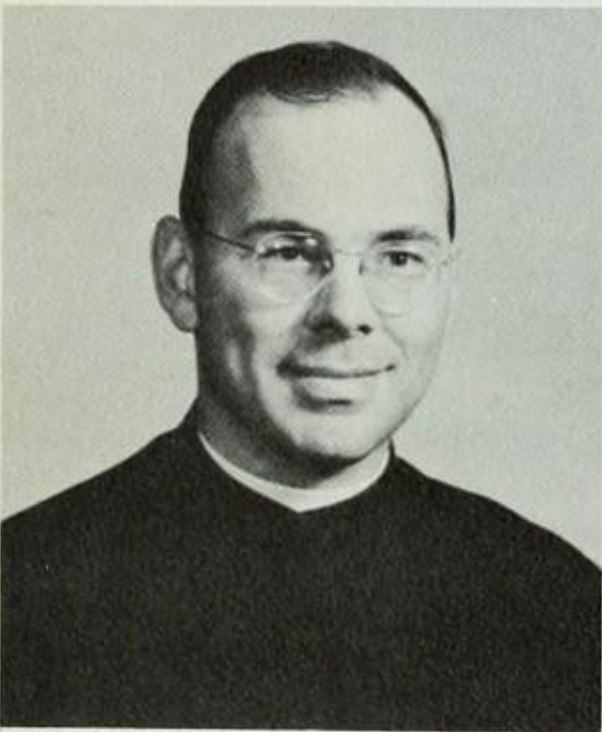

Though he is no longer on our staff, we mention his name here because of his tireless efforts on behalf of our annual. For three years Father worked diligently on the Eagle, turning out such a lovely book each year that we can only hope to do as well. It is the example he set that makes it possible for us to publish this year's Eagle.

The staff of the Eagle wishes to salute and thank all the friends of the Mission who have donated their time and services to the cause of its advancement. Junior High Math

WEAVING: A group of seventh grade girls learn the art of weaving through the careful guidance and attention of Sister Clementina.

LIBRARY: We gather here to broaden our scope of knowledge and relive the interesting and heroic lives of noted men and women of earlier times.

A Sound Mind...

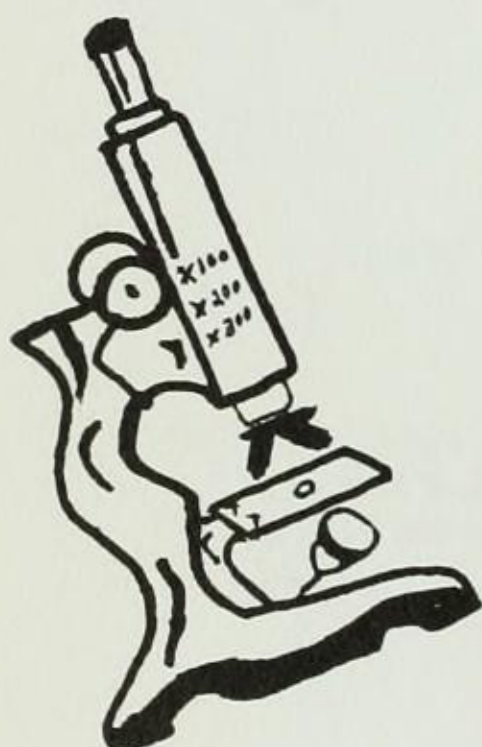

"Seek and you shall find." The dominant faculty of the human personality is the intellect, and above all other faculties it can look forward to vast vistas of achievement. However, its appetite for knowledge has to be trained and properly channeled. To this end, both teacher and student find their work cut out for them.

STUDY HALL: The silent hall where students are busily acquiring knowledge and completing homework assignments.

PHYSICS: Here the students use their minds to probe into the physical aspects of man's life, a necessary aid in the development of the student intellect and personality.

Science

GENERAL SCIENCES: This class is a preparation for further studies of the marvels of all sciences.

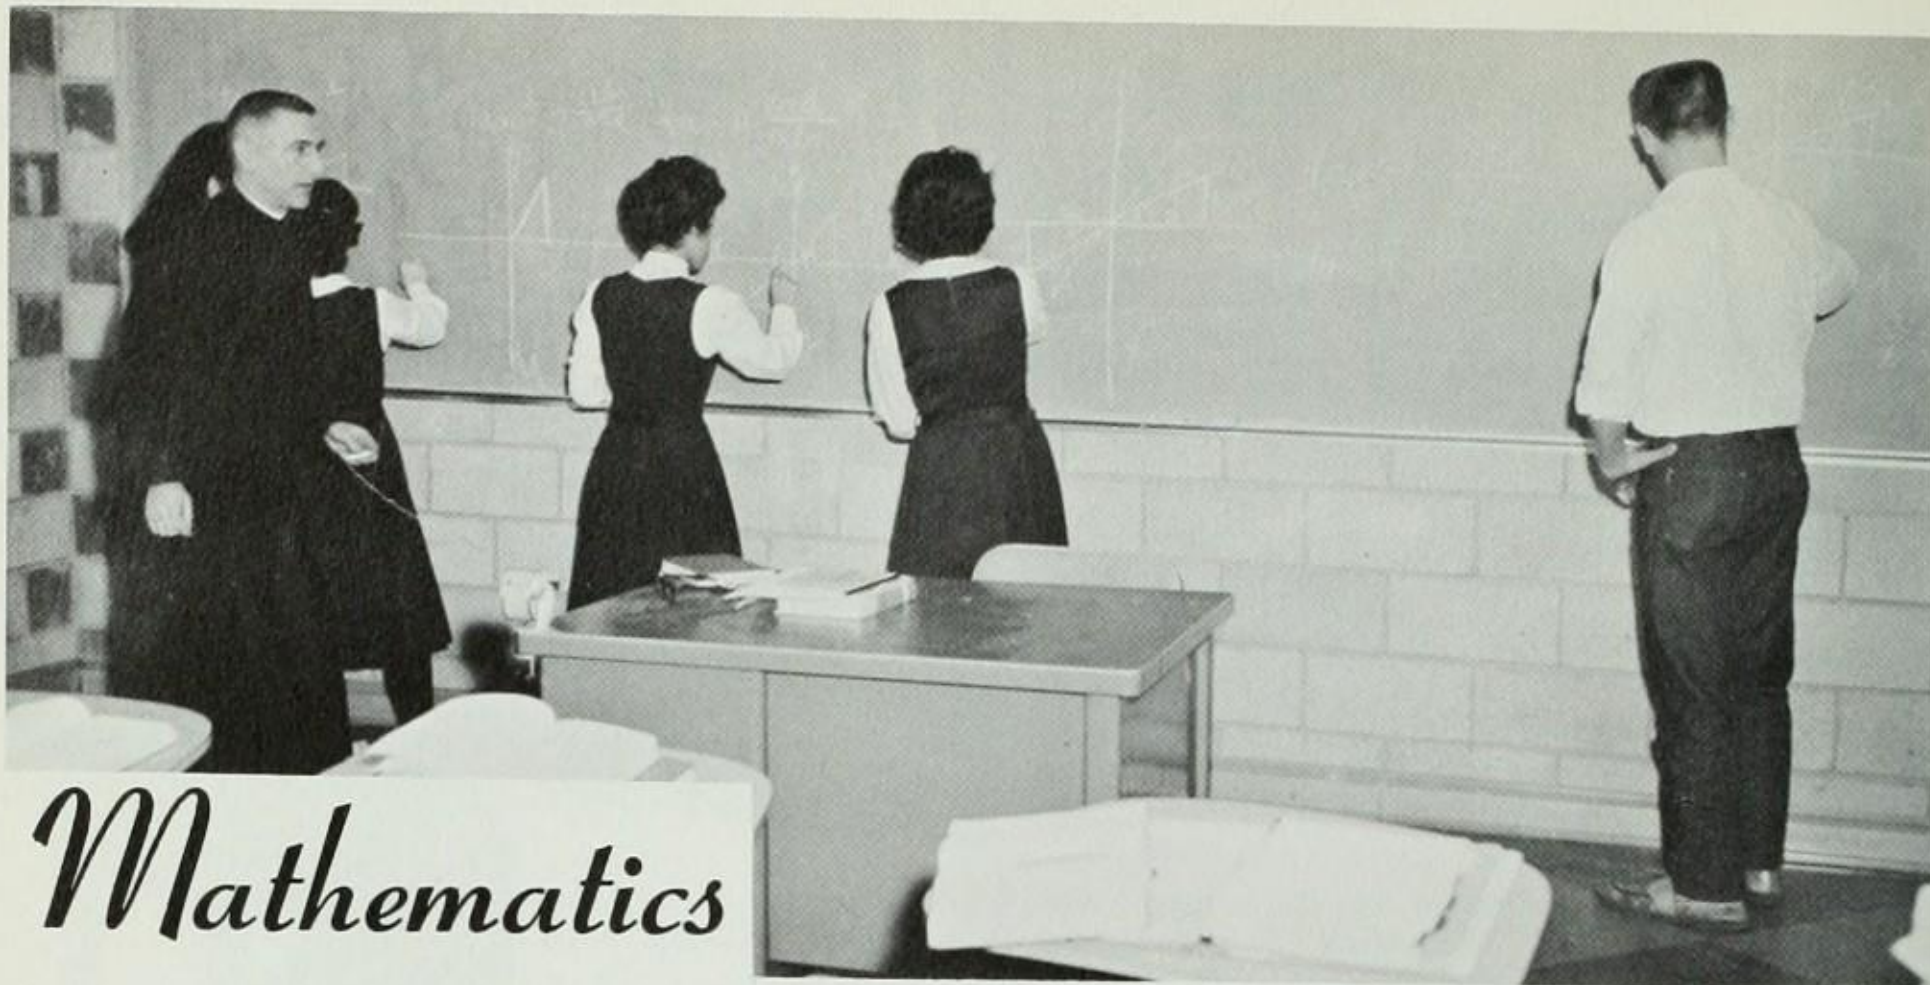

Biology

Man has always been captivated by the mysteries of life.

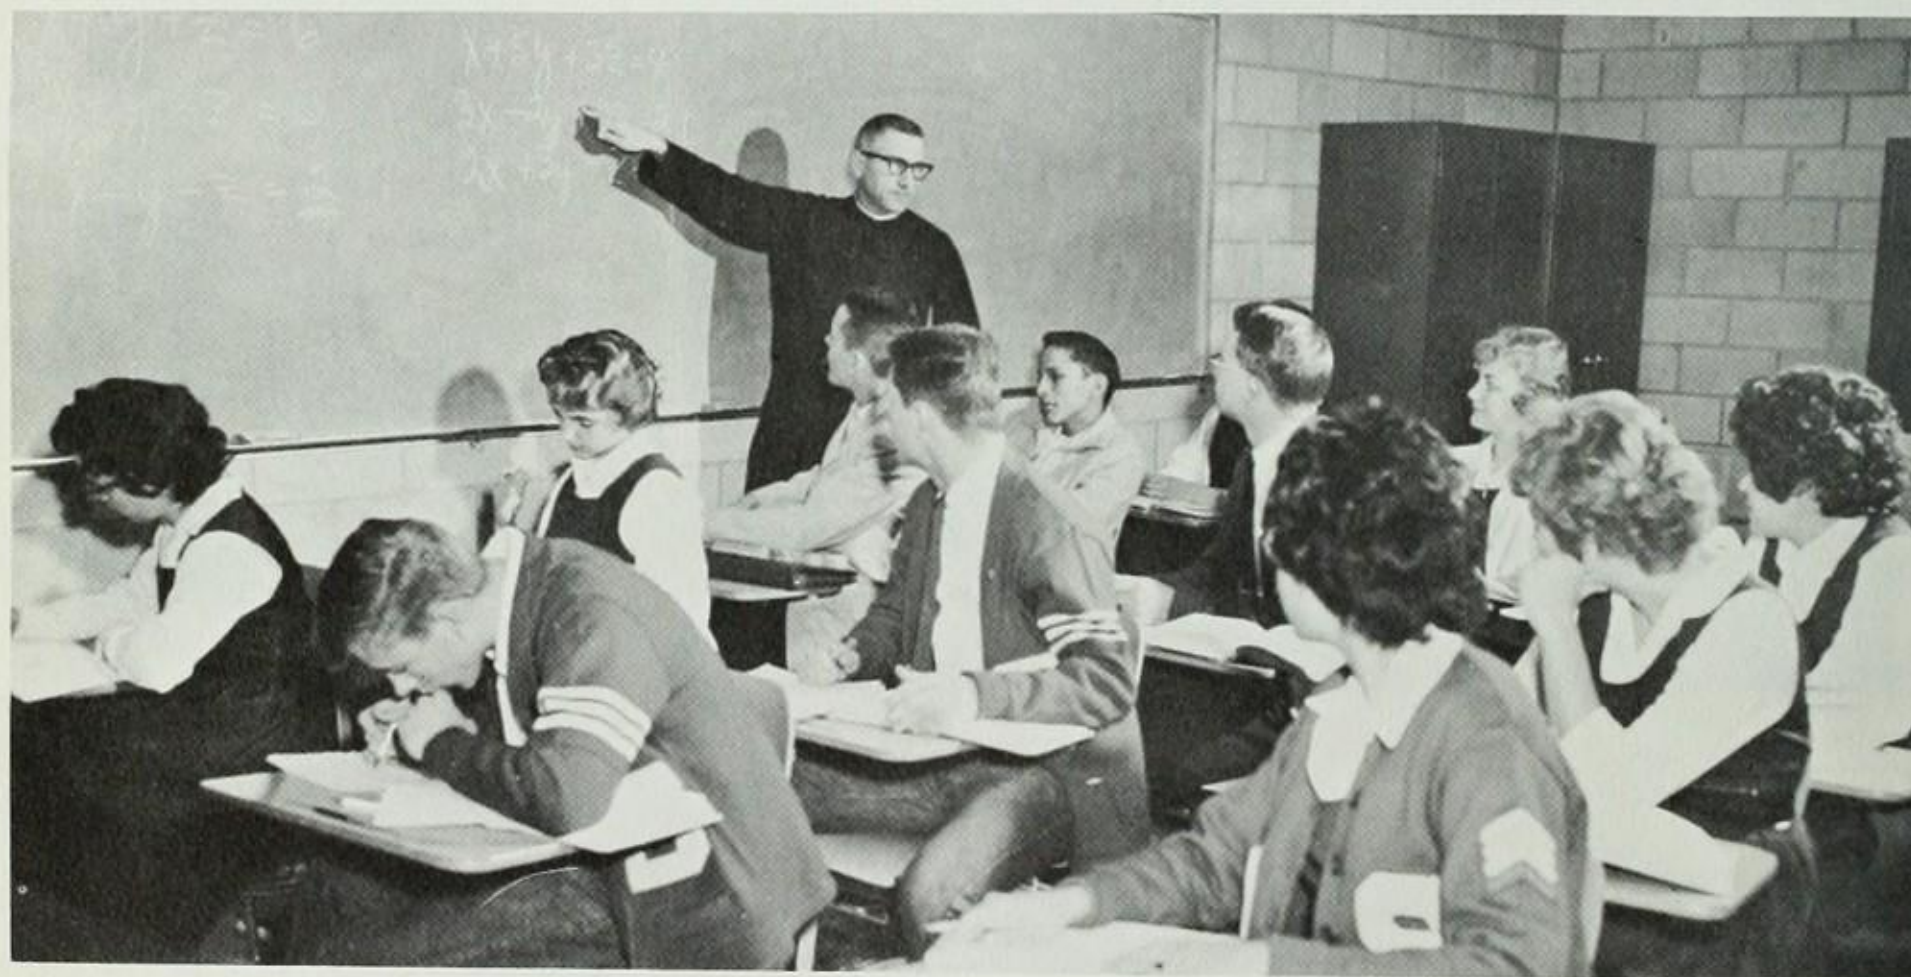

Science Fair

Tony Gamble explains his first place exhibit

Mathematics

TRIGONOMETRY — ALGEBRA: Trig and Algbra are two sciences that are wholly abstract. The students arrive at certain principles. From these principles they learn to make deductions. This helps to develop the intellect and, as a result, the personality.

$$(ab)^m = a^m b^m$$

$$\left(\frac{a}{b}\right)^n = \frac{a^n}{b^n}$$

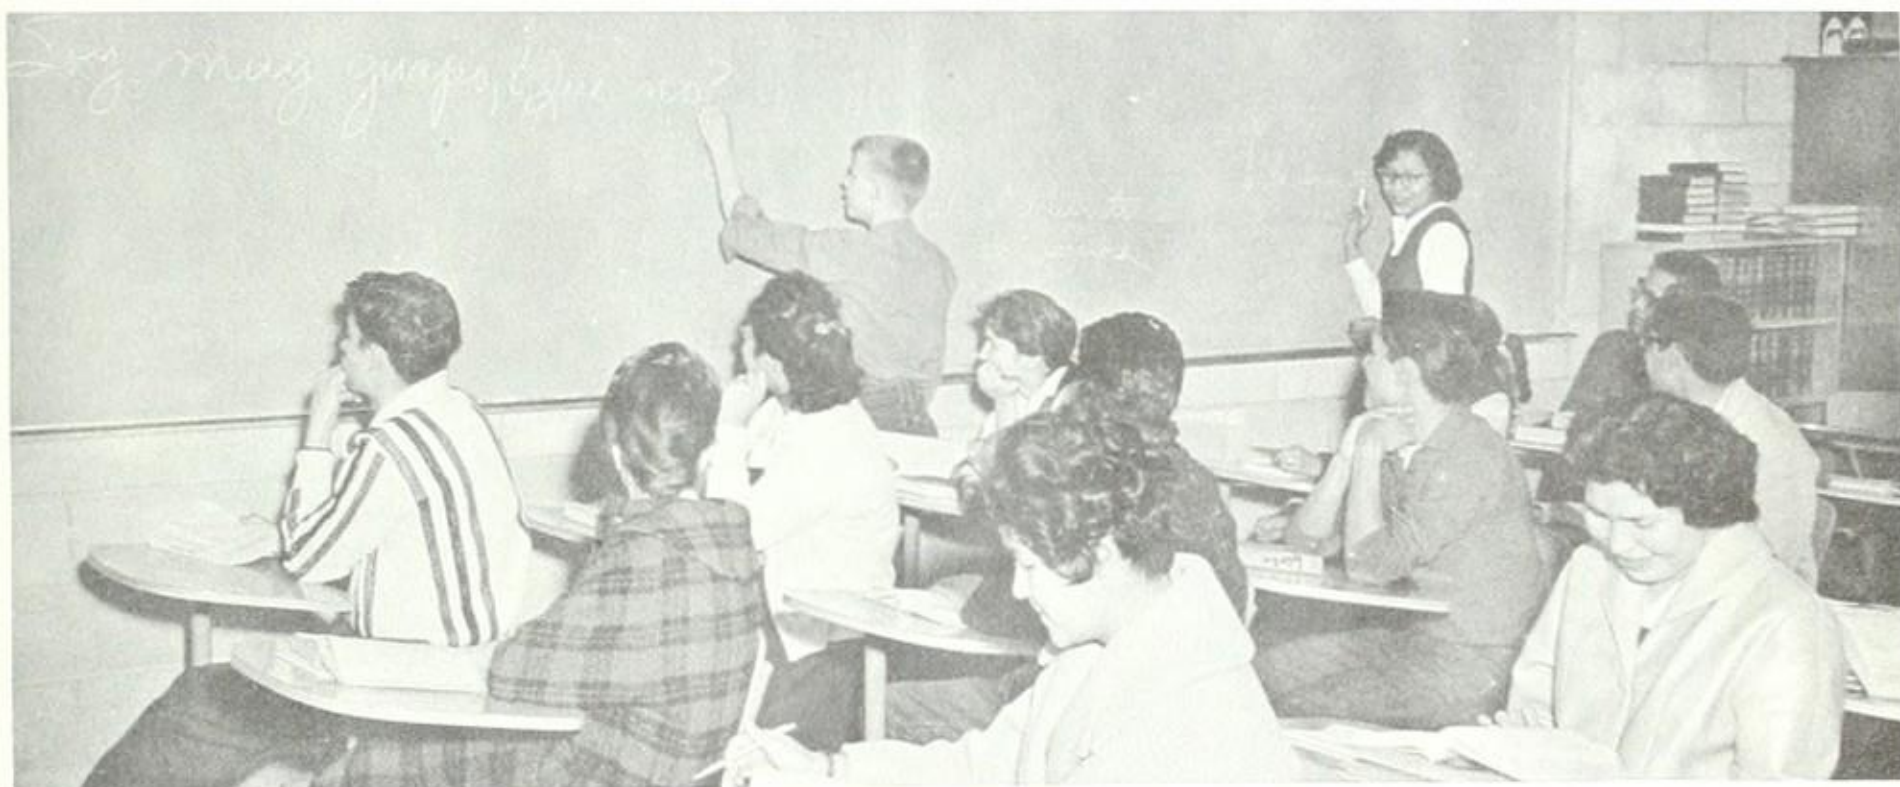

$$2x^2 + 3x - 4 = 0$$

$$ax^2 - bx - 3 = 0$$

Language Skills

Latin is a dead language only in one sense - that it is not spoken today. Its influence on our own tongue is a profound one.

SPANISH We develop a more universal outlook by understanding the languages of other peoples.

ENGLISH: Here we work to acquire more facility in the use of our own language. Through the study of the classics we are further able to learn something of ancient writers.

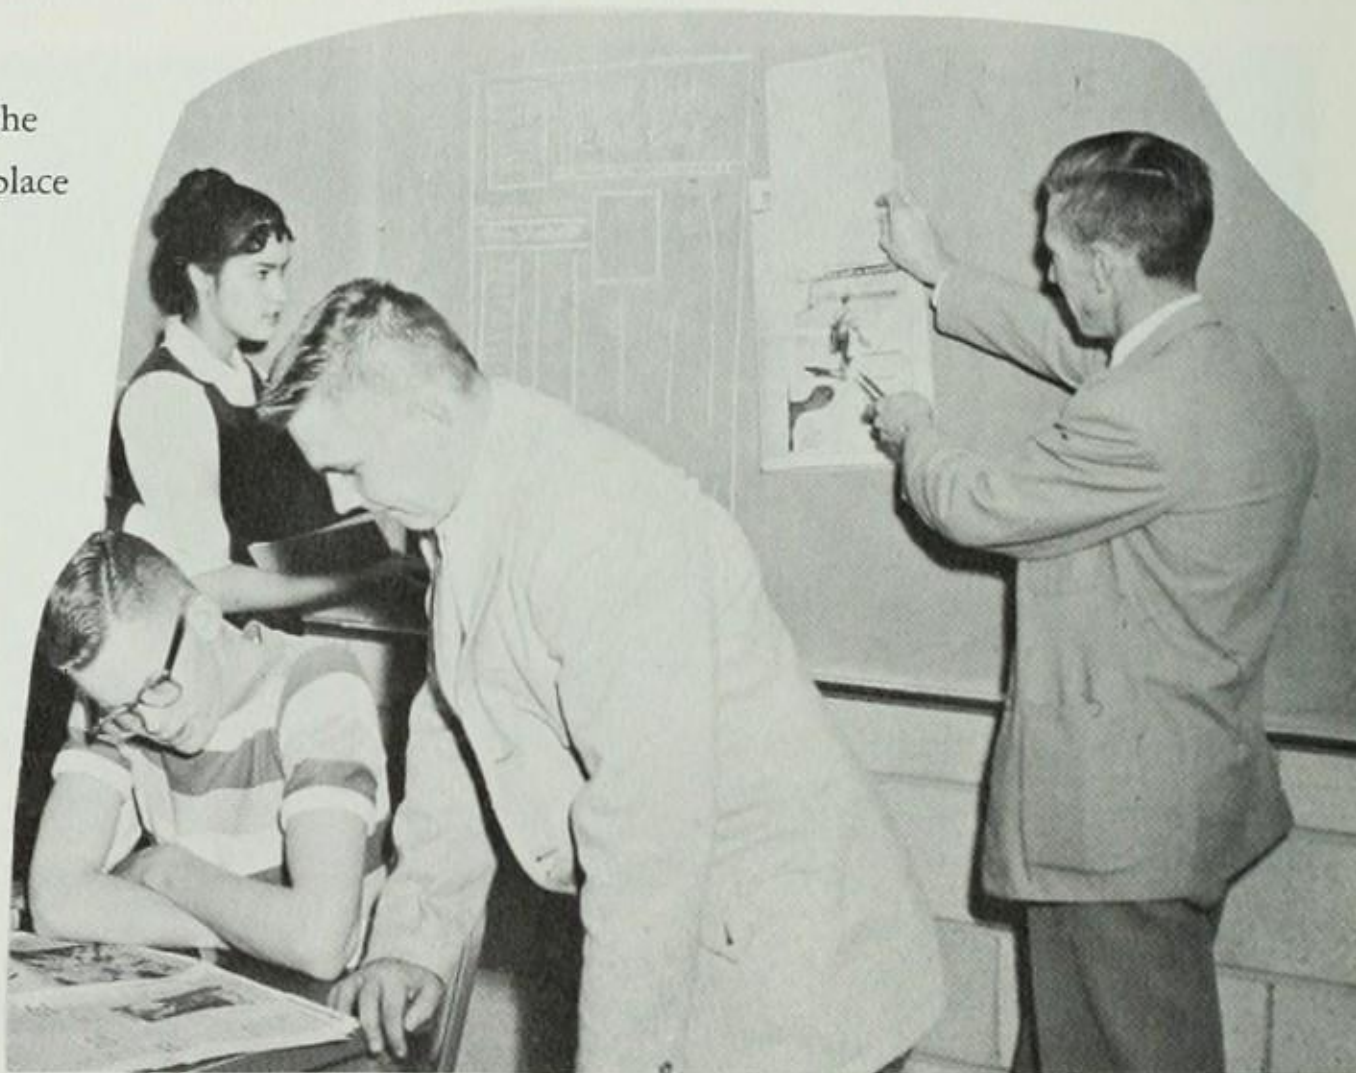

DRAMA CLASS

Our growth as human persons is enhanced as we enter into the thoughts and emotions of the great dramatists.

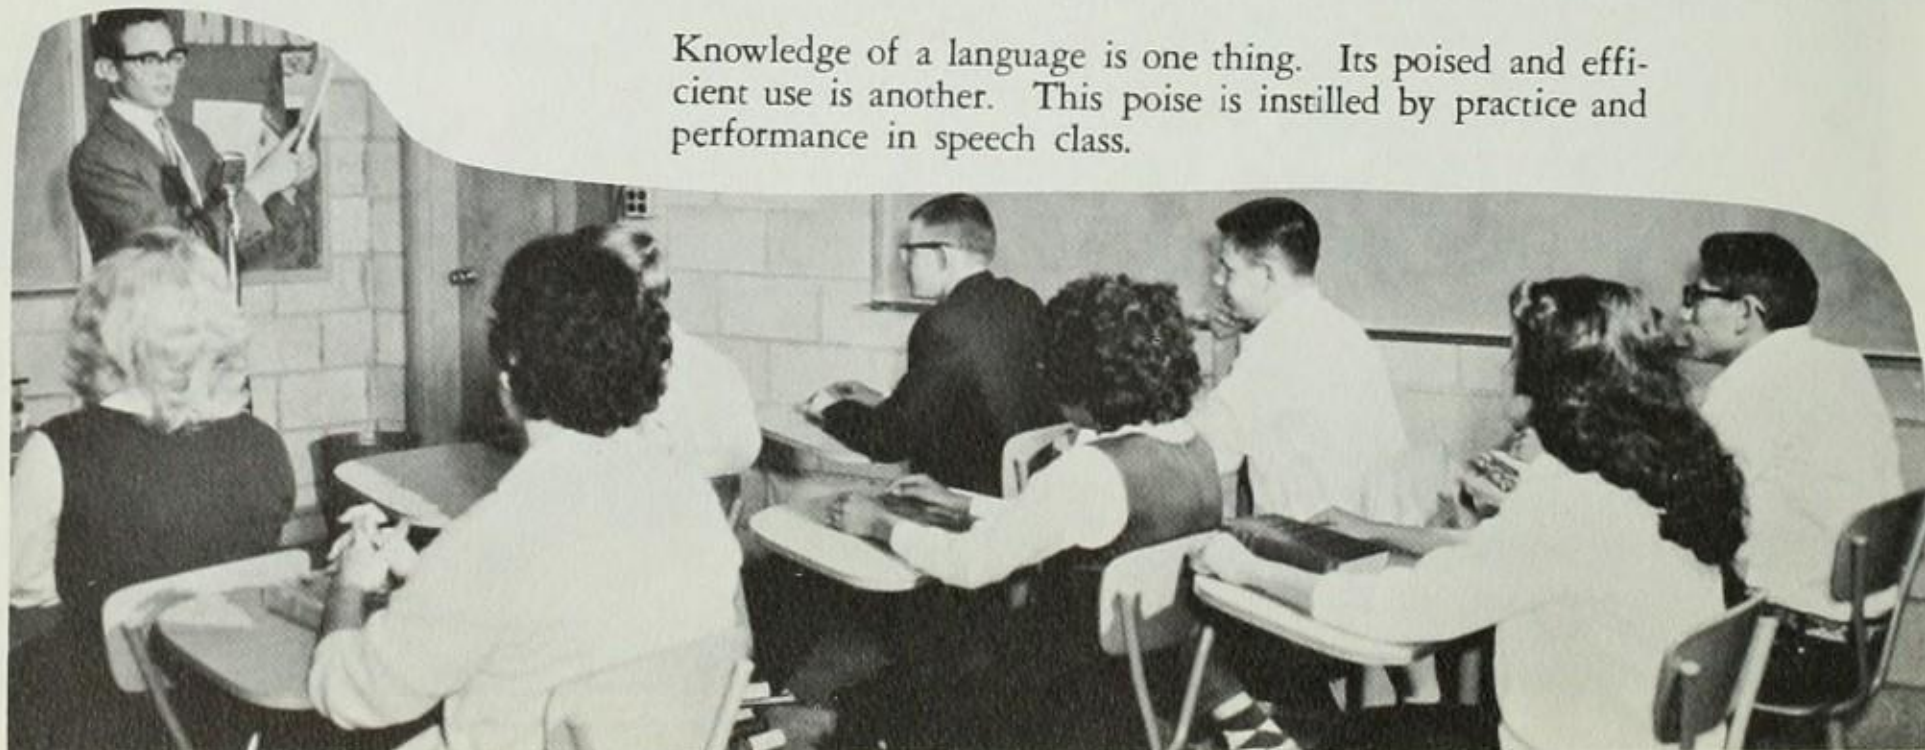

JOURNALISM

The students gain understanding of the production of a newspaper and its place in modern society.

Knowledge of a language is one thing. Its poised and efficient use is another. This poise is instilled by practice and performance in speech class.

GENERAL BUSINESS: A study which furthers the person's ability to work with others in the business world.

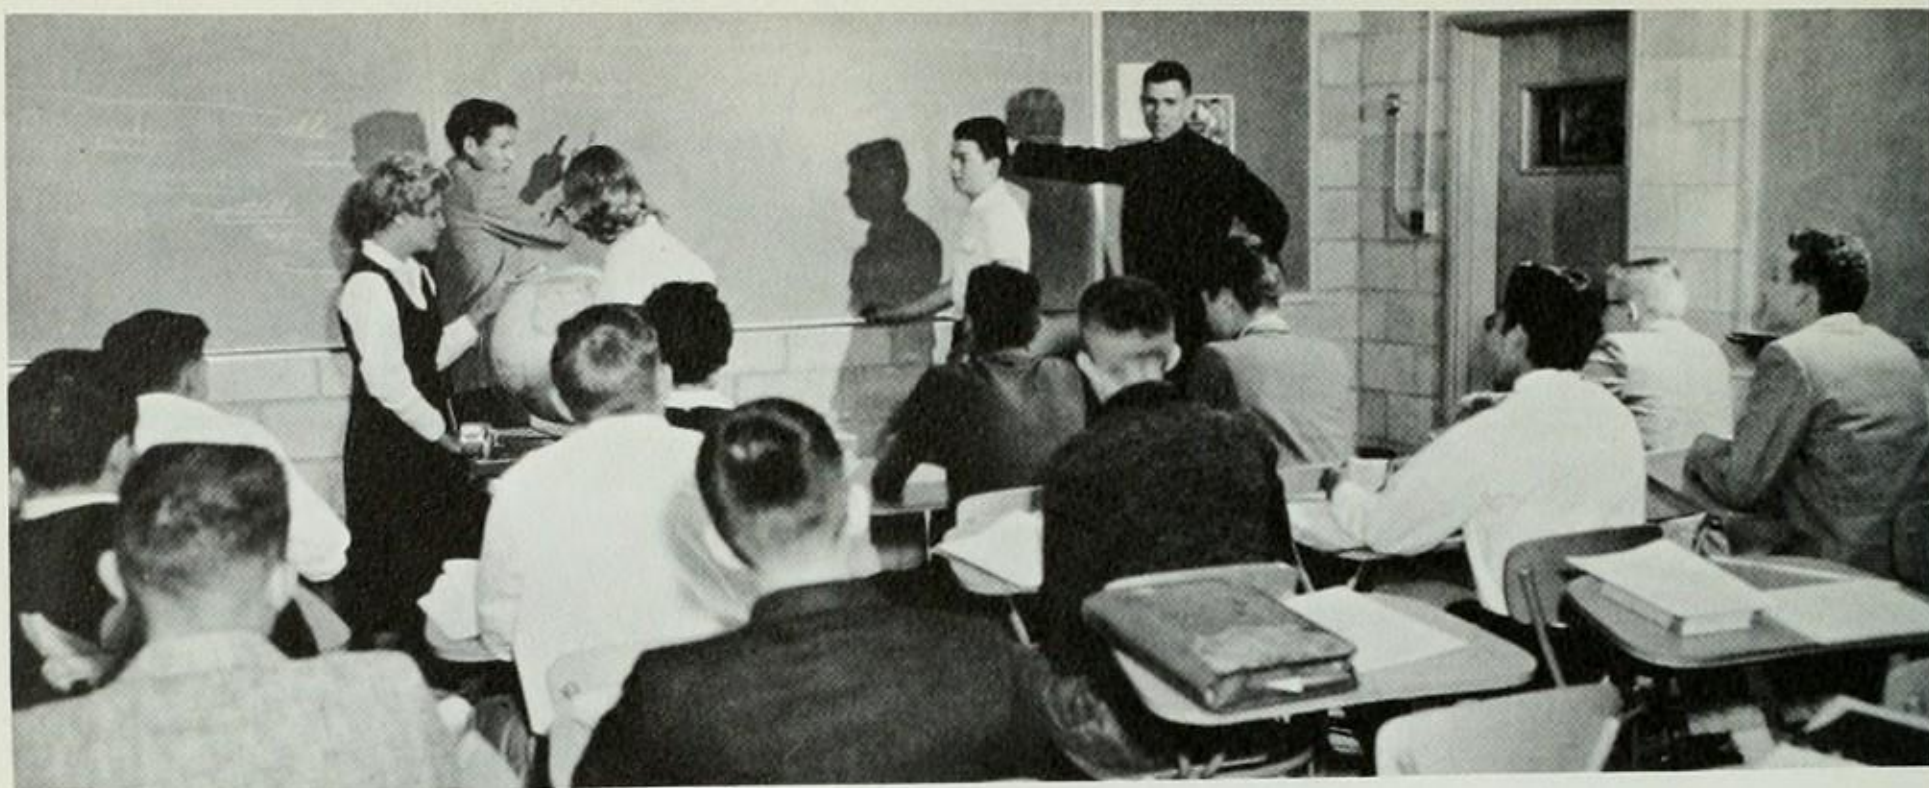

AD SALES: The art of salesman-ship helps the student to become more self-confident and gives him the opportunity to familiarize himself with various professions.

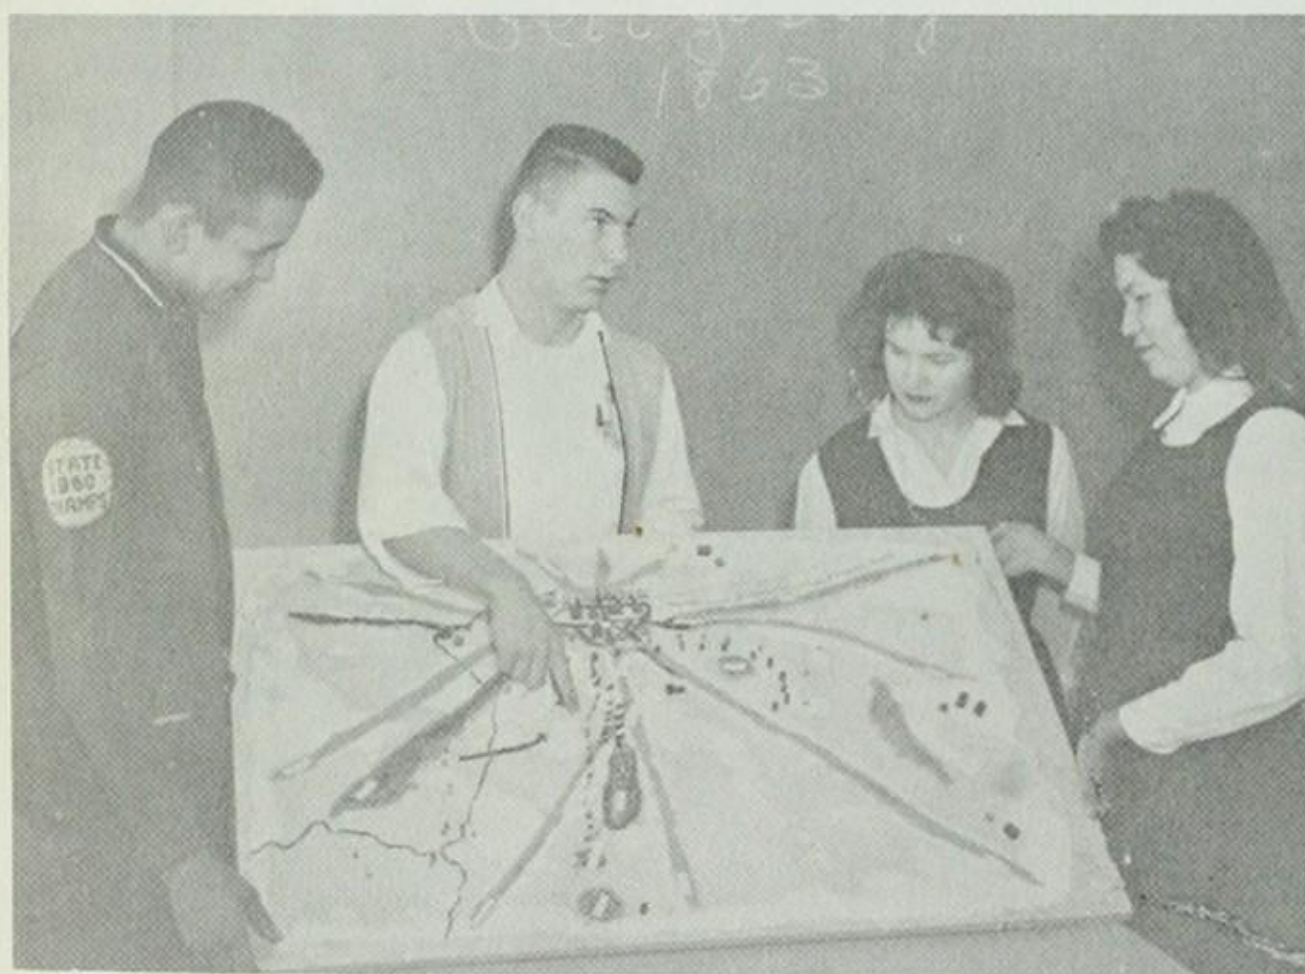

Commercial

TYPING: A practical skill which aids many who wish to follow business careers.

WORLD HISTORY: The study of past events in world history aims for a clearer understanding on the part of today's citizens.

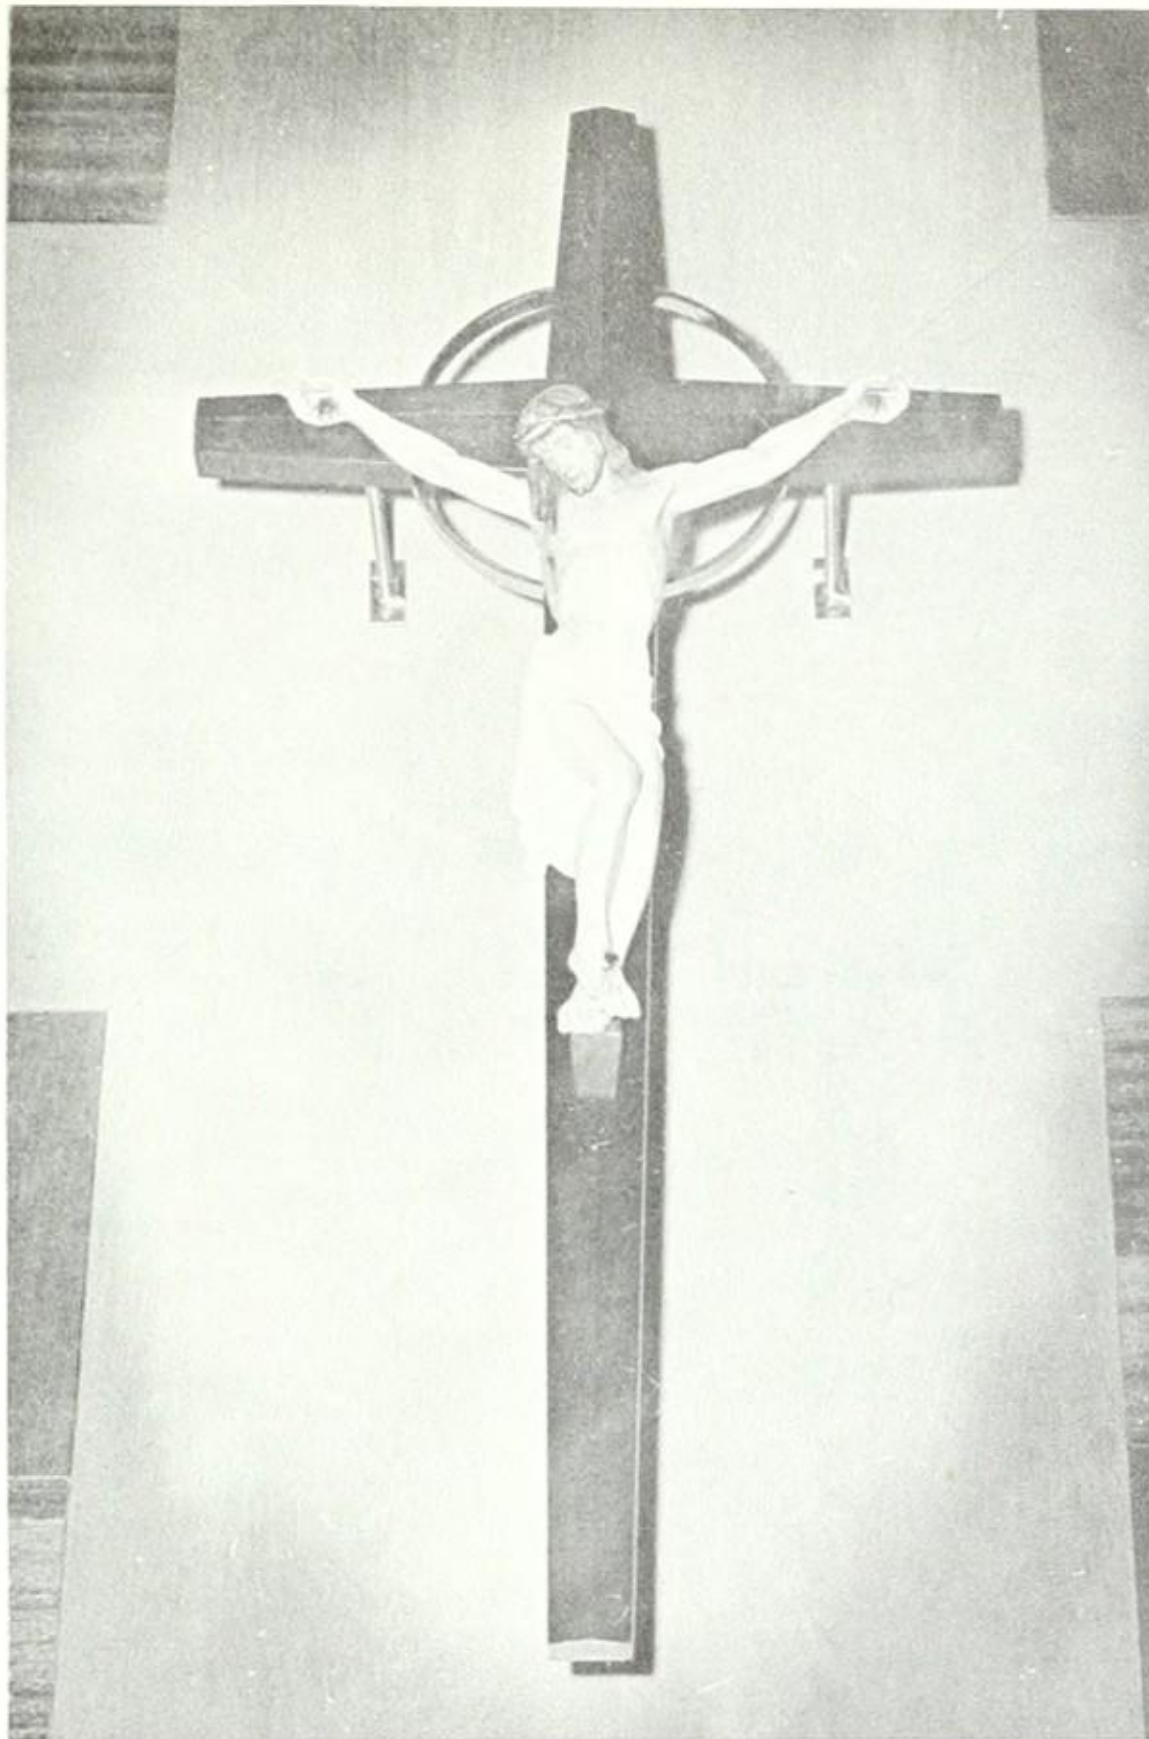

Social Studies

AMERICAN HISTORY

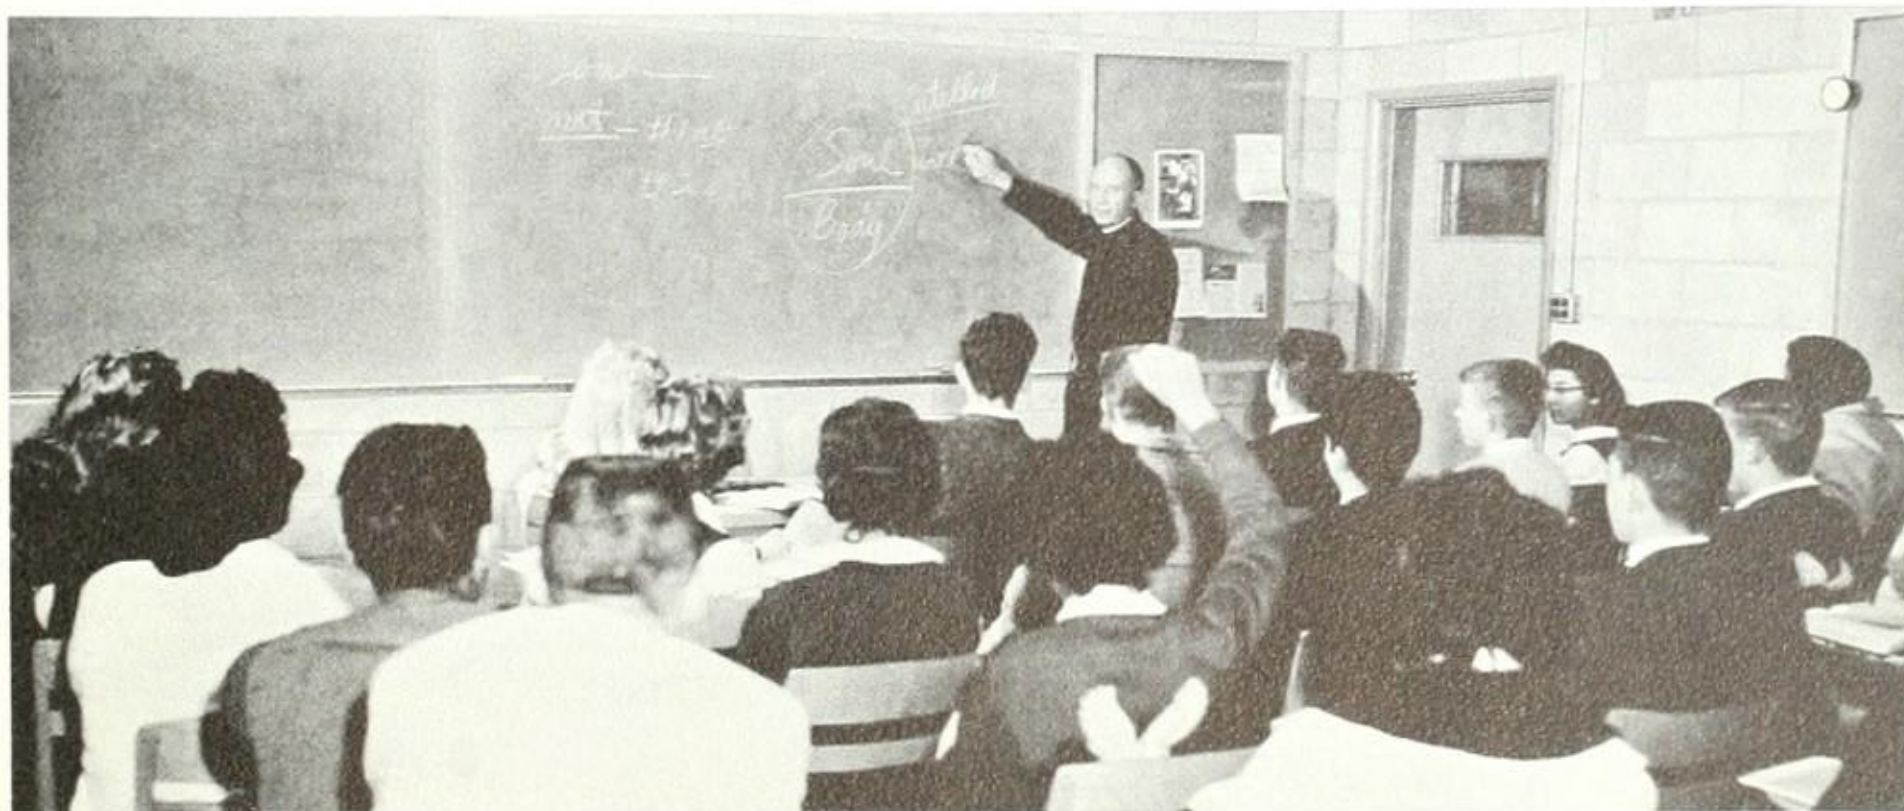

We can learn the art of a more useful Christian citizenship by studying the causes of success and failure in our country's past.

CIVICS: The students of today will be the nation's leaders tomorrow. The study of the mechanics of government and our democratic system provides these future citizens with the necessary tools.

The end of man is God. If we fail to arrive at this goal, we have frustrated the purpose of our existence. The personality which is not directed Godwards is a misdirected personality. We ask the Holy Spirit for light and strength gratefully to employ every opportunity offered us for spiritual growth.

MASS AND COMMUNION: Weekly Mass and Communion at St. Stephen's help young people to perfect themselves and to become more closely united with God.

"Be still and know that I am God."

Retreat

RETREAT: The retreat is an important part of the religious program. It gives each student a chance to take a personal inventory of himself and to make the changes that will help him reach for perfection.

The major function of a student council is to govern the student body and to provide various forms of recreation.

The student council members decide, as class representatives, what the student body would best enjoy.

Each member is a capable young man or woman. They are aware of the responsibility they have shouldered and are willing to do their best for their classmates.

Experience is said to be the best teacher. The experience obtained in working on the yearbook and school paper staffs will influence the type of life a person leads.

Besides that, it gives each individual a chance to work with others, to voice his opinions, and to stand up for what he believes in. It gives students the chance to practice self-sacrifice and to know what will be expected of them later on in life.

Above all, it gives one practical experience in what it takes to be a public servant. Each person on the staff works hard to see that the yearbook is a good one, hoping that it will provide the student body with many fond memories when many years from now, they recall their school days at St. Stephen's.

These delegates from St. Stephen's High School represented the three parishes — St. Stephen's, St. Margaret's and Holy Rosary at the Catholic Youth Convention in Cheyenne last October.

"No man is an island, entire of itself". While each one of us has a unique personality, he is also endowed with a social nature. One of the most exacting tests of maturity and competent guides to it is learning to get along with and deal with our fellow students, in all activities of the school.

Homecoming Dance: Wasn't it worth all that work, now?

Social

The students of St. Stephen's enjoy many social activities. The Box Social was the first activity held at the beginning of the new school year.

This gathering helped the new pupils get acquainted with the student body and offered returning students the chance to get re-acquainted.

In addition to within-the-school functions, we enjoy sock-hops held after the home basketball games on Friday nights.

The students of the visiting school are formally invited to these dances. This association with members of other schools gives a broadening of outlook.

Homecoming is the highlight of the year. The students elect a queen who is crowned in half-time ceremonies at the game.

After the game homecoming dance is held.

To help finance these activities, the students join forces and participate in cake walks and raffles.

These social events help us attain a well-developed personality, a broader outlook on life, and toward others a more understanding attitude.

Father Torres' speech group engages in a bit of tomfoolery calculated to remove bashfulness in the participants.

athletics

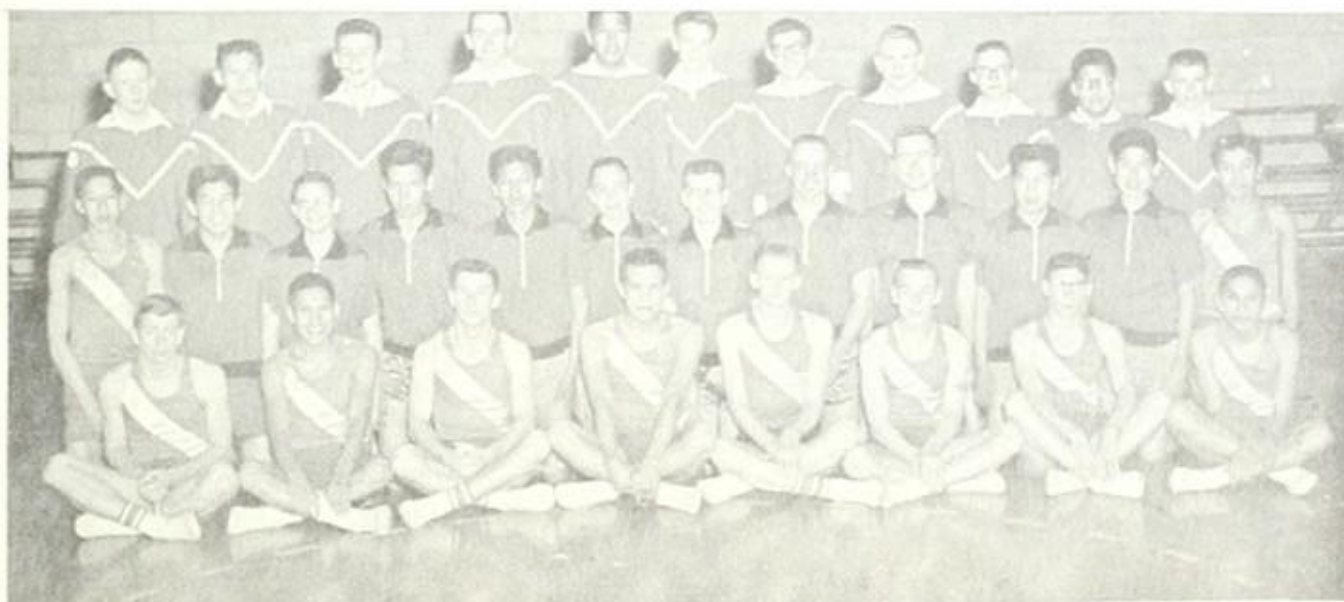

"A sound mind in a sound body". We at St. Stephen's take this statement of the ancient Greeks as a guiding principle in our education. By participating in sports, whether as athletes, spectators, or pep squad, we learn the art of good sportsmanship in both victory and defeat. We also train our personalities in courage and self-discipline.

We, the students of St. Stephen's High, can be proud of our powerful Eagles this year in the tough competitive sport of football. The Eagles rounded out the season with a 5 win and 2 loss record. The two losses came at the hands of the powerful Shoshoni Wranglers and the Pavillion Panthers.

Corky Payne was our leading scorer and our leading ground gainer. Mike Stark held up his reputation as an All-Stater scoring 51 points, all on passes from able quarterback, Tony Gamble. The race for total offense was close between Gamble, Stark and Payne.

Our rock-ribbed defense, who yielded only an average of 11 points per game was led by McCoy, Al S. Hunter, Stark and Gamble.

A special congratulation to our All-Staters, Mike Stark, Al Spoonhunter, and Corky Payne.

We are looking forward to a great season next year but we know we will surely miss our three seniors who played great football under a very able and hard-working Coach Strannigan. Congratulations, Mike Stark, George Finlayson and Jim McCoy.

Junior High Football

The high-flying Eagles have finished another successful season posting an enviable record. The season was high-lighted by close wins over Cowley and cross-county rival Pavillion in hard-fought games. The fired-up quintet pulled out victories over the two tenacious teams from South Dakota — Holy Rosary and St. Francis.

All-stater Al Spoonhunter played great ball and led the team in scoring. He had strong support from Mike Stark who will be sorely missed next season, and from George Spoonhunter, Leonard Moss, Tony Gamble, and Ducky Goggles. The rest of the team was composed of juniors and sophomores, who will be back next year more experienced and ready to launch another winning campaign.

Again the annual staff extends congratulations to a magnificent team and top notch coach for the wonderful job they did in carrying on the winning tradition built up at St. Stephens.

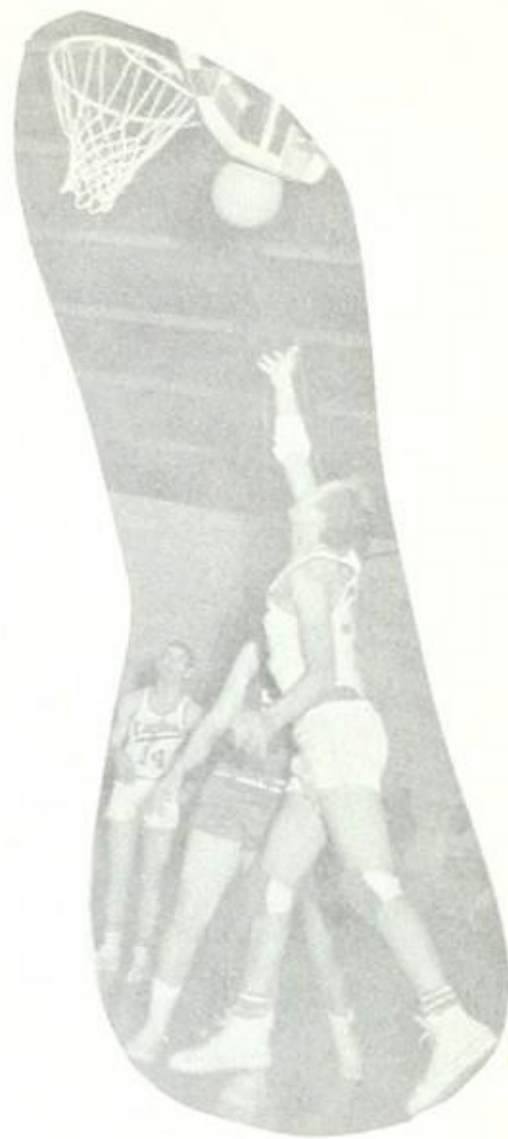

Tournament time found the Eagles not quite up to their best performances, but nevertheless bringing home honors once again.

District victories over Deaver, Byron, and Pavillion, in which Ducky Goggles, Al Spoonhunter, and Leonard Moss were chosen to the All-Tourney team, once more gave the Eagles the first place trophy.

In the State Tournament at Laramie, the cold Eagles were pushed to the limit in taking a 56-54 sudden death overtime victory over Pavillion on George Spoonhunter's jump shot. They followed with a comeback victory over Superior, 46-39, with Ducky Goggles doing some sensational ballhawking.

In the final, Prep was too tall, and we were cold. The Eagles had to settle for second in a 48-18 defeat. The boys deserved well, but laurels are certainly due to a great U. Prep squad.

Goggles and Al Spoonhunter were chosen to the All-Tourney team. Congratulations to another successful Eagle team!
